DSE Risk Assessment

Are you looking to complete your DSE training online? This short, auto-marked programme will give you the knowledge you need to understand workplace risks and how to identify and remove any likely hazards.

Section 1: The importance of DSE risk assessments

In this section, you will develop your understanding of the reasons for conducting risk assessments and the main legislation relating to DSE risk assessments.

Section 2: Controlling the risks from DSE workstations

This section will build your knowledge of the principles of good DSE workstation design, the main causes of ill health relating to DSE use and the corrections that can be made to workstation design to control risks.

Section 3: Carrying out a DSE risk assessment

Upon completing this section, you will understand the stages involved in a DSE risk assessment and the circumstances in which a DSE risk assessment should be reviewed.
